TWO CENTS.

THE COLUMBIA'S SECOND TRIP

Her Builders Will Take the New Warship Out to Sea Again.

If nothing unforeseen should occur the cruiser Columbia will be given a second builders' trial to-day. Everything is being prepared for the event. The vessel has, in a measure, lost the look of grimness which she formerly bore, having had a fresh coat of paint applied to her symmetrical sides, which, while detracting from her warlike appearance, tends to show off to more decided advantage her beautiful lines. It is the hope of the Messrs. Cramp that on this second trip the conditions will be more favorable. The first time she was taken out everything was against her. The weather was exceedingly bad and the sea rough, which prevented a lengthy stay, and yet in the face of these disadvantages the cruiser developed sea-going qualities and proved herself a splendid sailer. The fixing of the official trial trip will depend somewhat upon the success of the second preliminary test. Every one about the yard looks hopefully forward to the magnificent boat eclipsing her record of twenty-one and three-fifths knots, which was a knot in excess of the great record of the New York on her builders' trip. After the trial trip of the Columbia the Indiana will be put in shape for her preliminary trip, and she is expected to meet every requirement of the Government's contract.

AN English woman cured herself of somnambulism by sewing up her night dress at the bottom and at the sleeves. THE farmer in Japan who has more than ten acres of land is looked upon as a monopolist.

BAPTISTS FOR PROHIBITION

They Would Like Local Option as a Partial Measure.

The North Philadelphia Association Asks Congress to Appoint a Committee of Inquiry.

The most important features of the second day's proceedings of the sixteenth annual session of the North Philadelphia Baptist Association, in progress in the First Baptist Church, Manayunk, were the presentation of a set of resolutions on the liquor question. The resolutions were presented by the temperance committee, which comprised Rev. S. Z. Batten, of the First Church, Manayunk; Rev. A. D. Flip, of the Malvern Church, and Rev. H. Clipman, of the Bristol Church, and were as follows:

"That we are opposed to the licensing of the liquor traffic, believing it wrong in principle and vicious in its results.

HOOSIER DAY AT THE FAIR

Ex-President Harrison and Other Prominent Men Present.

CHICAGO, ILL., October 3.—Long before the hour of the exercises to begin in celebration of Indiana Day at the Fair thousands of Hoosiers, wearing badges, swarmed below the veranda which surrounds the State Building and jostled each other inside the roped-off space of the interior. The colors of all nations adorned the imposing structure, but the Stars and Stripes came in for the lion's share. The large reception room of the building was reserved for the official and other distinguished visitors, who arrived in due time amid the plaudits of the multitude. Governor Matthews and his staff in uniform, Lieutenant Governor Nye, ex-President Benjamin Harrison and James W. Bliley were the most conspicuous members of the party.

TRENTON'S GREAT FAIR

The Live Stock Exhibit is the Greatest Ever Seen.

THE FAKIR HAS HIS INNINGS

Visitors to the Inter-State Fair Discover Many Things to Attract Their Attention—Nearly Fifty Thousand Visitors Were on Hand Yesterday—Amusement and Profit are Nicely Combined.

An attendance of between 40,000 and 50,000 people was the encouraging report of the superintendent of the great Inter-State Fair at Trenton yesterday. "All sorts and conditions of men"—and women—were there, and from the sprucest down to the seediest they were getting their money's worth of enjoyment. Quite a number of them looked at home in their surroundings, their dress and manner stamping them plainly as belonging to the regular fair-goers; but there were also many who, from one wouldn't have expected to see there, and of whom it is hard to write all over their noses. Cleveland had arrived incognito he probably wouldn't have been recognized yesterday, so nobody in the least interested in live stock could fail to be charmed with the exhibits in this department, and visitors lingered admiringly in front of the stalls containing fine-bred horses. Even critics spoke in praise of their beauties, and outsiders unlearned in horsemanship could yet admire their various excellences. Centaur, a massive horse of a very dark-brown color, was the recipient of beautiful much admiration.

It is curious to notice how, one by one, the men who once gave a little dignity and respectability to the race-track are turning their backs on the track. William L. Scott and A. J. Cassatt have given it up, and Pierre Lorillard announces his intention of going home. There is said to be a woman living in Philadelphia who once refused an offer of marriage from Whittier, the poet.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE

Philadelphia, October 3.—Yesterday the market, while comparatively steady, was lower than it has been any day this week. There was a general scaling down in prices, an imperceptible sliding off in values, which though not apparent at the time, was very conspicuous at the close of the day's trading. The market did not seem to be in a condition that would make it susceptible to good news.
