*W*AIL, let me hear you wail, ye woodland glades, and thou Dorian water; and weep ye rivers, for Bion the well-beloved! Now all ye green things mourn, and now ye groves lament him, ye flowers now in sad clusters breathe yourselves away. Now redden ye roses in your sorrow, and now wax red ye wind-flowers, now thou hyacinth, whisper the letters on thee engraved, and add a deeper ai ai to thy petals; he is dead the beautiful singer.—Begin, ye Sicilian muses, begin the dirge.

Ye nightingales that lament among the thick leaves of the trees, tell ye to the Sicilian waters of Arethusa the tidings that Bion, the birdsman is dead, and that with Bion's song, too, has died, and perished bath the Dorian minstrelsy.

*Old friends and new our notice claim;
Those in a sorry plight—
Begrimed and worn, of graces shorn—
The stately, fresh, and bright.
Those plead long faithful service done;
These with their beauty sue:
They range before us for our choice—
The old types and the new.*

In 1818, or soon after, a type and stereotype foundry was established in Boston, and another in Cincinnati, principally through the enterprise of the late Elisha White, who, having the means of multiplying matrices with facility, took this method for the extension of his business. Others followed his example, and type-foundries were established in Albany, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Louisville and St. Louis, with several additional in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

A FOUNDRY, principally for German type,
was established at Germantown, Pennsylvania, about the year 1735, by Christopher Saur, (or Sower,) a printer, who executed in German
the first quarto Bible printed in America, as well as other valuable works in the German language.
Three editions of the Bible were printed, the latter two by his son. In 1739, Saur published a newspaper in Germantown.

*What choice? Those faces all are scarred,
While these are sharp and clear;
Those bodies bent, their vigor spent;
These straight and strong appear.
Not ruthlessly, though eagerly,
Close we the brief review;
Bid farewell to the old types here,
And welcome to the new.*
